ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder is a marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kind, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low cost, short weight, adulterated powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.
From the Professor of Chemistry, California College of Pharmacy.

SAN FRANCISCO, JANUARY 24, 1890.
I have made a careful analysis of a sample of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder purchased by me in open market. The results of my analysis show that the Cream of Tartar used in its manufacture is pure, and that it does not contain any foreign substances, such as Alum, Ammonia, Lime or other impurities. I consider it to be pure and wholesome, and in every way a superior article.

OPENED AT LAST.

A Carload of Mail and a Few Passengers Taken South.

The V. & T. have at last awakened
from their long sleep and opened up their road. They came down from Carson to-day with five engines and a snowplow and made the run in one hour and forty minutes, coming through drifts eight and ten feet deep.
The plow was turned round at once and sent back, opening up the sidings
at Steamboat, Franktown, Washoe and Lakeview. On the arrival of the plow in Carson a train was made up and sent down with a few passengers and returned with a carload of mail here since Thursday. It is hoped that the road will be kept open now.

THE BLOCKADE.

Probabilities of its Being Raised
Within the Next Twenty Hours.

The rotary snowplow was back on the track and working splendidly this morning, and all the engines that have been in the ditch for the past twenty-four hours are on the rail again, and unless the wind blows very hard or more snow comes, the indications point to a raising of the blockade
within the next twenty hours.

Providing Passengers with Provisions.

Yesterday at noon the situation on the mountains was unchanged. They had a provision train within seven miles of the snow beleaguered passengers at Blue Canyon off the track, and were packing provisions on snow shoes.

BREVITIES.

The University training school has been dismissed for the rest of this week.

The train from the east is reported stuck in the snow at Terrace and they don't know when it will be in.

J. C. Stubbs, one of the Vice-Presidents of the Southern Pacific Company, came in from the east last night and is snow-bound here.

A RECENT DISCOVERY.

A Strong Current from North to South.

A new ocean current has recently been discovered by Drs. Kukenthal and Walker in the Arctic region, in the vicinity of Spitzbergen. It is considered a very important discovery, and will be fully reported upon at an early day to the Bremen Geographical Society, at whose expense the exploring party, under the direction of the above-named gentlemen, was sent out.
In their brief communication announcing the discovery, they say: "One of the most important discoveries of our voyage seems to be our discovery of a strong ocean current with streams through the whole Olga Strait from north to south, turning south-eastward of King Charles' land.
It was very strong from the middle of July to the middle of August. On the surface it had a temperature of 13°
Celsius about the end of June, and 2° 6' 10" from July to the middle of August. But the temperature sank very rapidly in proportion to the depth.
We observed this stream everywhere
and at all times, from Northeast land to the Yae and King Charles. It was distributed only near the flat coasts
by the tidal currents." A second note is contained in a letter dated Tromsø,
Sept. 6, 1889, and runs thus: "This (the presence of driftwood on the seas) is a further keeping with the existence of a strong ocean current coming from the north, about the nature of which we shall fully report later."

ONE POUND.

Improvements in the Last Hundred Years.

A recent number of Harper's Bazaar says: It has been fairly tested
that a pound of wool can furnish in fine
yarn 84,000 yards, lacking but 80 yards to complete forty-eight miles. This,
at the time—more than 100 years ago—
was regarded as a triumph of skill,
and it was said by a score of mistresses
in the art of spinning that the worthy lady of East Doreham, in Norfolk, could not be beat. This was considered so great a curiosity that the Royal Society of England did not hesitate to make honorable record of it. Since then, however, another lady "has spun a pound of combed wool into a thread of 168,000 yards; and more than this was her success in producing a thread 203,000 yards long from the same weight of cotton. Her ball unrolled would measure 115 miles. If this ball of cotton thread had been woven it would have made 20 yards of muslin one yard in width."

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The World' Fair Committee Appointed.

A Heavy Gale in the English
Channel.

Congressional Affairs.

By Associated Press.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Speaker of the House has appointed the World's Fair Committee as follows: Chandler
of Massachusetts, Hitt of Illinois, Bowden of Virginia, Belden of New York, Frank of Missouri, Springer of Illinois, Hatch of Missouri, Wilson of West Virginia, and Flower of New York.

On the location for the Fair the committee stands as follows: For Chicago, Hitt and Springer; for St.
Louis, Hatch and Frank; for New York, Belden and Flower; for Washington, Bowden and Wilson.

The Chairman is satisfactory to all the contending parties, as he is one not committed to the interests of any particular city.

When the special House committee investigating the ballot-box forgery met this morning Mayor Moseby of Cincinnati was placed upon the stand.

Mayor Moseby testified to receiving letters from various persons recommending Wood for the position of State Inspector. One of the letters was from Governor Foraker, who stated he had promised to endorse Wood's application if he promised him (Foraker) certain political information about prominent men.

The following bills and resolutions were introduced and referred:

By Butterworth of Ohio, calling for information concerning the International Conference to be held in Berlin;
also, defining options and their futures,
and imposing a special tax on dealers
therein.

By Morrow of California, to prohibit absolutely the coming of Chinese into the United States.

By Stewart of Texas, to promote reciprocity between the United States and Mexico.

By Springer of Illinois, a resolution providing that on Thursday, the 23rd inst., the Clerk shall call the roll of members, and each member shall indicate his choice for the location of the World's Fair; and if no place shall receive a majority of all the votes cast, the roll-call shall be repeated until one place shall receive a majority of the votes cast. The votes having been received, the special committee shall report a bill for the location of the Fair at the place selected, which bill shall be privileged, and shall be considered from day to day until disposed of.

SENATE.

Among the petitions presented and referred were the following: From the American Federation of Labor in favor of the Blair educational bill; in favor of the service of the pension law for surviving soldiers of the late war; for the repeal of limitations on arrears of pensions; for the free coinage of silver;
for a law to prohibit speculations
in grain and other farm productions.

Among the bills reported from committees and placed on the calendar were the following: To provide for the admission of the State of Wyoming into the Union, and to provide for a temporary government for the Territory of Oklahoma.

A Channel Gale.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
—LONDON, Jan. 20.—The gale in the English channel continues and shipping has suffered severely. The National Line steamer Greece, Captain Jeffrey, from New York January 5th for London, passed Dover
this morning with a heavy load to the starboard. She was nearly submerged on the starboard side. Her cargo had apparently shifted.

Attack on Sunday Papers.

It is the beginning of an ecclesiastical crusade which, it is said, will be waged

An Electric Wire Dandy Work.

By Associated Press.]

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 20.—A man stopped his horse in front of Parson's shoe store, on Water street, tied the animal to an awning post and went away. A few minutes later the horse touched his nose to the post and fell into the gutter like a log. Thomas Dawson ran to help the horse, but no sooner touched the animal than he (Dawson) fell dead. Thomas Saltz, who saw Dawson fall, hastened to his assistance, and took hold of him to lift him up, but he, too, received a terrible shock and dropped to the ground as if dead. He subsequently recovered as if dead.

An electric wire had sagged and lay upon an iron rod extending from the awning post to the building and the full force of the electric current was passing down the wire into the ground.
The insulating material of the wire had become thoroughly saturated by the rain. The body of Dawson was carried into a store and laid upon the floor, where it still lies awaiting the action of the Coroner.

TO REMOVE OLD PAINT

Use a Compound of Soda and Quicklime.

The ordinary process of scraping old paint, or burning it off, is hardly expeditions enough for general purposes, and is also laborious. Soda and quicklime are far more thorough, and the paint is more quickly removed. The solution of half soda and half quicklime is thus made: The soda is dissolved in water, the lime is then added and the solution can be applied with a brush to old paint. A few minutes is sufficient to remove the coats of paint which may be washed off with hot water. Many preparations are sold for the removal of paint, all of them having some basis of alkali. A paste of potash and oil being sufficient to last in operation, and the oldest paint can be removed by it. Afterward a coating of vinegar or acid should be used to cleanse the surface before repainting. One authority on the subject recommends the gasoline lamp, and a quantity of oil being sufficient to last three and a half hours. The method is considered superior to gas, as the flame is stronger and the cost less;
besides which, the lamp can be carried to any part, which cannot be done very conveniently with a gas jet. But the use of flame of either is dangerous, and to be avoided when possible. For removing varnish spirits of ammonia is used,
but it is a slow process, and several applications are necessary. Scraping and sand-papering can be employed;
but it must be done carefully by experienced hands, or the surface of the wood will be injured.

The Scientific American notes that the chemical process of removal has the advantage of leaving the surface in a better condition than burning off or scraping, and for large surfaces of paintwork is to be preferred.

MARRY A GENTLEMAN.

Some Good Advice to Marriageable
Girls.

The Philadelphia Record says: It was excellent advice I saw lately given to young ladies urging them to marry
only gentlemen or not marry at all.
A true gentleman is generous and unselfish. He regards another's happiness and welfare as well as his own.
You will see the trait running through all his actions. A man who is a bear at home among his sisters, and dissolves his mother, is just the man to avoid when you come to the great question which is to be answered
yes or no. You need not die old maids, but wait until the prince passes by.
You will not be apt to find him in the ball-room. Nor is he a champion billiard player. He has not had time to become a "champion," for he has too much honest, earnest work to do in the world. I have always observed that these "champions" were seldom good for much else.

Be wary in choosing girls, when so much is at stake. Do not mistake a passing fancy for undying love. Marrying in haste rarely ends well. Do not resent too much the interference of your parents. You will travel long and far in this world before you will find any one who has your true interests at heart more than your father or mother.

Waste Paper.

George Russell received the Gospel News yesterday morning, that has for its motto "Go ye into the world and preach the gospel to every creature."
But just at this time it is lost on the desert air to send anything of the kind to Mr. Russell, for he is too busy looking after his stock to heed the request.

Waked Up Effectually.

A lethargic, dormant condition of the liver is hardly to be overcome with drastic cathartics and nauseous cho-loagogues. A gentler, pleasanter and far more effective means exists of arousing the organ when somnolent. This is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, vouchsafed for by the medical fraternity, tested by the public for many years. A resumption by the biliary organs of its secretive function, with the activity attendant upon health, a return to regularity of the bowels, and a renewal of digestion, are the no less happy and certain results of using the Bitters systematically. Its laxative effect is never painful and drenching, its tendency being rather to perpetuate regularity than to produce a copious action. Malaria, nervousness, debility, kidney troubles and neuralgia it subdues effectually.

THE THROUGH BUSINESS BAD.

Wholesale Counterfeiting in Mexico.

A Shipment of $5,000,000 Bo-
go Dollars.

The Atchison Road.

By Associated Press.]
BOSTON, Jan. 20.—The Atchison
President, Marvel, called his first meeting with a full board and made a general report on the condition of the system and the result of his recent trips over the property. He found the condition of the road more than fair,
but the Gulf road needed improvements, and 100 miles from Paris to Dallas would have to be rebuilt with steel rails in the place of iron. President Marvel found the local business of the Atlantic & Pacific increasing,
but the through business was not satisfactory. He goes again to push this traffic, which furnishes so long a haul, and one of the traffic managers is now at work in Southern California where the fruit traffic is showing the result of his labors.

The Powers Refuse.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
LISBON, Jan. 20.—The Portuguese
Government is finding the powers unwilling to mediate in the dispute between Portugal and England concerning territory in East Africa, and will submit to Lord Salisbury's full demands under protest, while at the same time it will try to conciliate Portuguese public opinion. In the attempt to increase their capital from $15,000, 000 to $25,000,000 the Portuguese-
Mozambique Company has failed.

Extensive Counterfeiting.

By Associated Press.]
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The Sun publishes a sensational article purporting to give the details of a gigantic counterfeiting business said to have been carried on by certain citizens of Mexico. It states that certain individuals have within the past two years coined 5,000,000 of our silver dollars, and after shipping them across the border, have disposed of them with a profit of 28 cents on each dollar.

Cronin Bribery Case.

By Associated Press.]
CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—The Cronin jury
bribing case was called in Judge Horton's Court this morning, but was postponed until February 10th, on account of the illness of the defendant,
John Graham.

Taking a Rest.

By Associated Press.]
BOSTON, Jan. 20.—President Adams
of the Union Pacific started to-day for Cuba on a three week's vacation trip.
He will be accompanied by Director Atkins. The officers of the Union Pacific say the year contract with the Northern will stand.

THE GULF STREAM

Gradually Nearing the American Coast.

It has been noticed for many years
that the flow of the Gulf Stream appears to be approaching nearer and nearer to the eastern coast of the United States. The question just now seems to have acquired a new interest, due to an article recently published in the Boston Transcript, by Lieutenant Dewey, U. S. N., wherein this gentleman states that this great ocean current is now flowing nearer to the New England shore than has probably ever been known before. This is in part at least owing to the weakness of the Arctic current, and its entire absence at times, in the North Atlantic.
Lieut. Dewey thinks this proximity of the warm Gulf Stream to the coast
accounts for the comparatively mild,
open winters of the past two years.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.

This is a faithful picture of the establishment of Thomas Price & Son, at 524 Sacramento St., S. F. As the leading chemists of the west, they were asked to settle the question as to what sa-raparilla was in fact purely vegetable. We present their report. "We have made careful chemical analyses of several well known brands of saraparilla, and have found them all with the single exception of Joy's to contain iodide of potassium. As a result we are enabled to pronounce Joy's to be the only purely vegetable saraparilla now on the market, which has come under our observation." Modern medicine has proven that all ordinary face eruptions are caused by indigestion and sluggish circulation, which call for vegetable alternatives,
instead of mineral blood purifiers like iodide
of potassium. Joy's Vegetable Saraparilla is the first to discard the old notions and proceed under the modern theory. Its cures are the talk of the hour.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

The Lesson of the Hour.

Stockmen have at least learned a lesson from the elements during the past month, and that is to provide feed for their flocks and herds and not try to winter more than they have feed for. It is an ignominious ending for a fine sleek steer to turn up his heels on the bleak plains covered with snow, when if he had had suitable quarters and food to keep him alive he would have been taken to the shambles in a few months to gladden the hearts and tickle the palates of many hungry families. From present indications it seems almost an impossibility for many of the range cattle to be able to pull through and the loss to stockmen is something fearful to contemplate. Fully 50 per cent. of the cattle unprovided with food must succumb to the inevitable and only the strong and those in good condition will show up at the spring round-up. A winter like the present following on the heels of four years of drouth, with our ranges over-stocked, it must have occurred to the stockmen that their losses would be very great, but it seems to be human nature to look on the bright side and trust to luck for the outcome. To be on the safe side stockmen should put up a ton of forage for every brute they intend carrying through the winter, and until this lesson is learned losses will become from year to year more or less serious.

The January number of the North American Review is rendered memorable by one of the most brilliant features which have ever appeared in an American periodical. This is a discussion between the Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone and Hon. James G. Blaine on the tariff. Mr. Gladstone advocating free trade and Mr. Blaine protection. Whatever can be said on one side and the other of this subject is said in these articles in the most telling and impressive way by these two great masters of controversy. Mr. Gladstone's article occupies between twenty and thirty pages of the Review, and Mr. Blaine's reply is about the same length. It is a battle of intellectual giants.

It is decidedly fatiguing to hear any supporter of the mono-metallic Cleveland administration talk about being a "true friend of silver." [See Silver State's remarks on Bartine's letter.]

VALUABLE PRESENT.

Every Old as Well as New Subscriber Gets One.

The article the GAZETTE is giving away is no cheap or common place affair, it is something every family ought to have. It is a Medical book for home use. A book that is valuable, and choice in its language.

A book of 480 pages. A book which you do not have to keep under lock and key.

A well printed book. A well bound book.

50,000 copies have sold in the last six months.

It is a $3 book which is given away. OUR PURPOSE—We are making this new departure for two reasons:

First. We wish in this way to express to our Old Subscribers our appreciation of their patronage.

Second. We hope to induce a large number of New Subscribers to take our paper.

OUR PLAN—We shall give a copy of this three dollar book to each one of our subscribers this year, old as well as new, as follows:

A new subscriber who sends for the WEEKLY GAZETTE and STOCKMAN for one year at $2.00 in advance, we will give a copy of this $3.00 book.

To any old subscriber who will renew his or her subscription for one year, at $2.00 in advance, and get us one new subscriber at $2.00, we will give a copy of this $3.00 book.

In this case, the new subscriber will also get a copy of the book with his year's subscription.

To all delinquent subscribers who will pay arrearages, and renew for one year, at $2.00 in advance, and give us one new subscriber at $2.00, we will give a copy of this $3.00 book.

The new subscribers will also get a book.

Where the book is sent by mail, 20 cents must accompany the order for postage.

EPOCH.
The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of the Kidneys or Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing you will surely find relief by the use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle at W. Pinniger's drug store.

A CRUDE WAGON BRAKE.

The Price of Which is not Affected by the Tariff.

"B" writing to the Stockton Independent from Hot Springs, describes an Arkansas invention that he has noticed, as follows: It is a new style wagon-brake. It does not require a skilled mechanic to manufacture it and there is no patent applied for. To make one, cut down a sapling five or six inches thick, cut it of the right length for a brake bar; swing it under the wagon-bed close to the hind wheels, in old rope or strip of rawhide can be used for the purpose; now bore an auger hole in the starboard end of the brake-bar, between the wagon bed and wheel; this hole must slant backward at an angle of 45°; use a small sapling four or five feet long for a handle, whittled to fit the slanting auger hole; then attach a small, rusty chain to the center of the hind axle and make the other end fast to the center of the brake-bar. The driver then ties a baling-rope to the upper end of the handle and takes the other end in his hand. When he wants to put on the brake he pulls the rope, and as the upper end of the handle goes forward the brake-bar rolls and shortens the chain attached to the axle. This movement brings the brake-bar in contact with the hind wheels. It works well. The entire cost of this brake, labor included, is 35 cents. The Democratic party of Arkansas do not claim that the high tariff affects the price of this brake in the least.

HOW TO STOP A RUNAWAY.

A Policeman Gives His Experience.

A policeman, who has distinguished himself in stopping runaway horses, gives in the Medical Classics the following points as to how to accomplish this difficult feat with the greatest success. When you see a runaway coming, do not try to check him by a rush from the opposite direction or the side, for you will be immediately knocked flat by the collision; but instead, prepare yourself for a short run with the horse. Measure with your eye the distance, start to run while he is yet some distance off, perhaps ten feet in the case of fair to medium runaways. You may depend upon his keeping a straight line, for a really frightened horse is half blind, and would not veer for a steam engine. He will go straight ahead until he smashes into something. So do not get close to the line on which he is rushing, and as he passes you, grab the reins near the saddle. Gather the reins firmly, and then, leaning back as you run, give them a powerful yank. You may be able to brace yourself somewhat as you give this jerk by half sliding on your feet. The strong jerk on the bit tells the horse that he again has a master, and prepares him for the final struggle. A step or two forward after the first yank, do it again. This is the finishing stroke. It never fails when given by a determined man. Keep a firm pull on the reins till you grasp the horse by the nostrils, and hold him so till he is pacified.

VISIONARY SPECULATION.

A Quaker City Physician Locates the Soul.

Considerable speculation has heretofore attended the precise location of the soul, but, according to the Electrical World, the mystery is now solved. Dr. A. H. Stevens of Philadelphia has located it in the corpus callosum, a little spongy body situated at the base of the brain, which has defied the efforts of physicians in their endeavors to ascertain its uses in the human anatomy. "The corpus callosum," says the doctor, "is the seat of the imperishable mind, and is the great reservoir and storehouse of electricity," which is abstracted from the blood in the arteries and conveyed through the nerves up the spinal cord to the corpus callosum.

Weak Women

One to themselves a duty to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, in view of the great relief it has given them who suffer from ailments peculiar to the sex. By purifying the blood, regulating important organs, strengthening the nerves, and toning the whole system, it restores the debilitated to health.

After 15 Years.

"For 15 years my mother has been troubled with milk leg. She went to different parts of California, as persons said the climate might help her, but it was of no avail, and I, being a druggist, thought I would get her to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she had taken half a bottle she said she was improving, so she continued until she took half a dozen bottles, and now she is perfectly well. For nearly fifteen years she was unable to walk around, but now she can walk as well as ever." T. F. BLAKE, San Francisco, with C. F. Richards & Co., Wholesale Druggists.

Like a New Creature.
"I have been for years trying to get help for that terrible general debility and weakness so common to women. Within a year I have taken ten or twelve bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I am now feeling like a new creature." Mrs. F. R. Ross, Marina, Texas.

Miss Emma Gibbs carries an elegant assortment of birds wings and ostrich feathers for hats and bonnets.

The kind of meals being furnished at the Riverside Hotel are said to be a sure prevention for la grippe.

By dining only in the best, C. A. Thurston has established one of the most lucrative stationery and blank book trades in the State.

Notwithstanding the blockade, J. N. Wallace is still able to supply all his customers with every article known to the grocery trade.

The snow-bound passengers now in Reno say so long as Lemery puts up the kind of meals he is now furnishing they can stand the delay.

C. J. Brookins is taking his share of the prevailing sickness but his attentive clerks are on hand to wait on those in want of school books or school supplies.

There is no danger of starving so long as E. C. Leadbetter remains in the grocery trade, and what you get there will always be found first-class or it will be no fault of his.

The way J. J. Becker treats the stockmen makes them forget their prospective losses and causes them to realize that it does not help their case to complain about what they are not able to remedy.

FULLY ENDORSED.

The "Gazette's" Premium a First-Class Medical Work.

Having examined the advance sheets of "Our Family Physician," I can say that I find it a valuable and reliable in its descriptions of diseases and reliable in its therapeutical department.

H. F. COOK, M. D., Professor of Theory and Practice, Hahnemann Medical College.

I hereby certify that I have examined a work entitled "Our Family Physician," and find it to be correct in its diagnosis, and in my opinion, worthy of the confidence of the public. H. N. HANSEN, M. D.

I have examined the advance sheets of "Our Family Physician." It gives me pleasure to recommend the work as correct in its mode of treatment of diseases, and it deserves wide circulation.

J. E. COOK, M. D., Professor in Bureau Medical College, Chicago.

After examining the publication "Our Family Physician," I can fully endorse the opinions expressed of its merits by the above gentlemen. R. A. GUNN, M. D., Professor of the Burnett Medical College.

The book contains a valuable chapter of symptoms, which will aid wonderfully in diagnosing diseases, and the proper remedy is given for Allopathic, Homeopathic, Eclectic, hydropathic and Herbal treatments.

We have a number of the books on hand, and we invite inspection.

The Best There Is.

A new typewriter has been invented by the party who invented half of the Remington and all of the Caligraph. It has no ribbon, no wooden bars, but is all steel, prints true and without any blur. It costs an even hundred dollars, and is worth two of any other machine. It prints better, wears longer, is easier to learn and works faster, besides other recommendations. C. A. BRAGO, Agent.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shroul, pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kansas, says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased and my physicians thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 pounds in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to use them to try it. Free trial bottles at W. Pinniger's drug store. Regular sizes 50c and $1."

Three Chapters that Contain a Sequel.

There are three chapters in the "Family Physician" which are worthy of special mention, namely, those on "Diseases of Women," "Diseases of Infants" and "Care of the Sick."

The first of these is a model of its kind. It is chaste in language, contains no disgusting pictures for children to happen on and be over-curious about, and taken altogether is the most practical, sensible and straight-forward treatise upon this delicate subject that has ever been printed.

This chapter alone is worth many times the cost of the book to every mother even if it had to be purchased at its regular price. The other chapters are referred to as equally well written and valuable. See "Our Plan" on 4th page.

THE OUTLOOK.

News from the Eastern Part of the State.

A GLOOMY PROSPECT FOR CATTLE

Fifty Per Cent. of the Livestock Reported Dead.

The GAZETTE, desiring to keep its readers posted, yesterday sent out telegrams inquiring the condition of things on the ranges, and herewith submits the results of its investigation: Special to the GAZETTE.]

Elko, Nev., Jan. 19.—The snow is from two to five feet deep. A band of 500 cattle, owned principally by Russell & Bradley, arrived last night from Mound valley—a four days' trip for thirty miles. The stock looks well, and will be fed here, except 70 beef steers belonging to William Mitchell, which are intended for shipment.

It is hard to tell the outlook for cattle, as the snow is so deep the men cannot get out to see.

Range stock cannot survive, and it is hard for those without shelter to live even when fed. Old settlers never saw such a winter in Nevada.

Bigelow, Russell & Bradley and others will ship hay from Reno if the trains can get through. If feed does not arrive soon they will run short, and, as a consequence, the outlook is dreary.

A rising barometer indicates that the storm is at an end, for which all are thankful.

Communication with the outside districts is cut off, and there has been no news from Mountain City, White Rock, Ruby Valley, Bullion and Sprucemont for two weeks, as traveling is impossible.

From the present outlook there will be no water suits in Elko county this year.

Gloomy Outlook in Humboldt—Fifty Per Cent. of the Cattle Dead.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

WINNEMUCCA, Jan. 20.—The outlook for stock running at large is as bad as it could be. The snow is about eighteen inches deep in Humboldt valley from Mill City east. There is about the same in Paradise valley, and little less in Quin River valley.

It is somewhat deeper in the valleys further south, and stockmen say that 50 per cent. of the range cattle have perished.

Snow falls daily and the temperature is low. To-day it is partly clear, and the mercury below freezing point at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Condition at Ruby and Steptoe Valleys—Cattle Perishing by the Hundreds.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

WELLS, Jan. 20.—Thomas Haley of Eureka arrived here to-day with a shipment of beef steers, which he brought from Ruby valley.

He reports that the situation in Ruby valley could not be worse. Cattle are perishing by the hundreds, and the hay is all fed out.

The same state of affairs exists in Clover and Steptoe valleys. Those who have some hay and are feeding are losing their stock for want of water.

There have been no reports from the North since the first storm.

The only chance to hear from that direction would be by snow-shoes. There were a few hundred head slowly starving on the plains in sight of Wells, but the last storm killed them all and covered their carcasses out of sight.

The thermometer was 15° below zero last night. To-day it is clear and calm and the sun is shining very bright.

NELLIE BLY

Expected in San Francisco To-Day—She will make the Trip On Time.

W. B. Hopson of the New York World was sent out to pilot Nellie Bly, who is expected to arrive in San Francisco from Hongkong to-day, across the continent, but is snow-bound here.

Yesterday he made arrangements with J. C. Stubbs to have her taken by special train over the Southern Pacific and through on the Atchafalpa & Topeka roads, and Mr. Hopson will return east and meet her. She will make the trip around the world within the seventy-five days if nothing unfortunate happens, and arrive at Jersey City on time.

"The Princess," 75 and 50 cents.

Two feet of snow are reported at Elko.

The yards in town are fence full snow.

Don't forget "The Princess" to-night.

Everybody has a cold, more or less severe.

Snow, more snow—and the end is not yet.

Business of all kinds is nearly suspended.

Everybody was shoveling snow all day yesterday.

This storm is the worst that has ever visited this State.

A train was made up here yesterday morning and sent East.

Go and hear Dr. Lewis sing a solo in "The Princess" to-night.

The N. C. & O. did not get in Saturday night until 9 o'clock.

No lover of the drama should fail to see "The Princess" to-night.

A Chenook wind would be a god-send to the cattle and sheep men.

No mails, no travel and no news makes it hard work to get up a paper.

Go to Sunderland's and get a pair of Arctic overshoes and save taking a cold.

Judge Wells presided in the District Court to-day in place of Judge R. R. Bigelow.

The cattle and sheep men are sweating blood, notwithstanding the cold weather.

Seventy-five feet of the Essex ice house gave way yesterday, and is a total wreck.

Unless the blockade is raised soon Reno will be out of many of the necessities of life.

So far this winter 326 feet of snow have fallen at Emigrant Gap, as against 35 feet last season.

The town is full of snow-bound passengers from the East awaiting an opportunity to go west.

"Anything new from the West?" is getting to be an old chestnut with the telegraph boys at the depot.

Humboldt county has a floating indebtedness of $17,000. This is the lowest it has been for years.

Brave men are battling with the storm-king in the mountains, but thus far without making much progress.

If we can have forty-eight hours without more snow falling or wind blowing there will be trains from the West.

We were all praying for "an old-time winter" a few months ago, and now that we have got it, we have "no kick coming."

The snow-bound passengers availed themselves of the opportunity to go to church yesterday and pray for the storm to cease.

The creditable manner in which "The Princess" was presented last Friday evening ought to insure a full house to-night.

Dan Wheeler has heard nothing from his sheep that are ranging near Wadsworth, and don't know whether they are snowed under or not.

This is the winter when many who have been wishing themselves out of the livestock business will have a chance to get out, but the clean-up will not be at all satisfactory.

If you should care but little for the drama, and do not care to see "The Princess" to-night, be patriotic and buy a ticket anyhow for the benefit of the Library fund.

We suggest to our traveling friends now snow-bound in Reno that an evening may be pleasantly and profitably spent to-night at the Opera House at "The Princess" entertainment.

The effort to help along the Reno Library made by the citizens who have gotten up "The Princess" at such cost in time and money should receive substantial support by the public.

No one seeing "The Princess" will regret having spent 50 or 75 cents for that purpose, however small the interest in the Reno Public Library may be. The play is worth more than the admission price to any lover of "the histrionic boards."

THE DIVER'S ARMAMENT.

Full Description of the Dress Worn by Men Who Work Under Water.

If any one has seen a diver in his submarine suit bobbing up from the water with his glistening, immense round copper helmet, with his square, clumsy, manfish-like canvas suit, usually stained by use, iron rust and sea water to brownish, yellowish gray, something the color of a devil-fish, he may at first have been somewhat startled by the apparition.

The being who thus rises from the sea is not a mischievous creature, but on the contrary a very useful member of society when his services are required any brought in requisition: "A full description of his dress is something like this:

From the helmet projects a coil of snake-like rubber hose, a sort of antenna, which passes down under his left arm and up through the water, connecting with an air-pump on a float-stage or in a boat. The pump is manipulated by two men and furnishes compressed air for breathing when under water, which exhausts into the water by a valve in the helmet, enabling him to breathe continually fresh air, while, when he comes to the surface, the windows of his helmet can be opened and he can breathe without the assistance of the air-pump.

When he goes down into the water he has two means of communicating with those above—the hose and the life-line. By the latter he also descends and comes up when necessary.

By each of these he gives and receives signals mutually understood, three sharp pulls on the life-line indicating that he is ready to ascend. In order to overcome the natural buoyancy of his body and make its specific gravity such that he can walk about on the bottom of the sea, he wears shoes with soles heavily ballasted or weighted with lead.

The upper part of his body is protected, as is also his lower half, by heavy canvas covering, consisting of jacket, with sleeves, and pantaloons, with terminations which fit closely, with elastic bands clinging to his flesh, the jacket fitted closely to the helmet with metallic bands bolted together, with a burber gasket between.

No water or air can get to him, except the latter by the hose, unless he opens the glass windows of his helmet, which he is not likely to do unless occasion requires.

Additional weight is placed at his chest and back; sometimes a breast-plate and a shoulder-plate of lead, sometimes a belt heavily weighted, which can be thrown on or off the shoulders, and hang down in front and behind when in use.

The experiences of a diver are many and interesting. After he has once reached the sunken vessel, whether by being lowered straight down from the wrecking craft or by walking along the bottom of the ocean to avoid currents, he must search through the hull of the ship as though she were floating upon the surface of the water.

To do this he carries a small lamp with him, which gives out a peculiarly brilliant light when under the water, and makes the surrounding objects glisten with all the colors of the rainbow.

Care must be taken that the air-tube does not get tangled in any way, or cut by friction against the side of the vessel. Unfortunately divers have frequently lost their lives by this means when exploring the intricate passages of a vessel at great depth below the surface of the water.

Danger is also experienced from heavy pieces of timber, boxes, barrels and even dead bodies, which are often floating around in the hold of a sunken vessel.

A diver, once telling of the trouble he had in exploring a wreck, said that he was constantly annoyed by several heavy chests which kept moving about with every swell of the sea. One came so near his diving-bell that he was forced to give it a violent push, which sent it against the opposite wall of the small cabin. Instantly it rebounded and came within an inch of the diver's helmet, which it would have quickly broken had it struck it.

But, by dodging in time, the chest passed harmlessly over him, and the next moment it collided with another chest. The force of the collision broke one of the hoops of the huge box, and the next moment a glittering pile of newly-stamped gold coins rolled out upon the floor of the cabin.

The chest had been used as a sort of treasure-box by the captain, and all of his valuables were locked up in it. Besides gold and silver pieces of money, rich jewels and precious stones escaped from the brass-bound chest, and presented to the diver's gaze a rare sight. The light from his small lamp, shining through the water, made the golden heap seem brighter than ever—Golden Days.

A RAZOR'S TEMPER.

In Most Instances It Improves as the Blade Gets Older.

"How does that razor go?" queried a well-known tonsorial artist of a reporter a few days ago as the latter was being shaved.

"It pulls a little," was the reply.

"That's just what I thought," uttered the barber, as he wiped the blade carefully and proceeded to strop another which he selected from a number lying on his shelf.

"Do you know," he continued, "that razors are just as freaky and changeable as women? Why, that razor I just put away, after a good honing, will sometimes shave twenty or thirty men with only a slap or two over the strop once in awhile, and perhaps some other time the edge will be gone after I have shaved two customers. Of course some people claim that the difference in people accounts for this, and that is in a great measure true, but oftentimes the edge will go back on a fellow while shaving a man whose beard is like silk."

"Another peculiar thing about them is that they will not work for other people the same as for the man whose custom it is to use them. Now, I would just as soon think of throwing all those moose blades you see lying on the shelf away as to let some other man home or strop them for me. What's the reason? Well, it lies just here. There are many different kinds of edges, and only the man who is used to the razor can know what they will stand. He has to study them, of course, and he will know just what stroke to make on his oilstone and what passes to make on his strops. The razors seem to become acquainted with the touch of the man who constantly handles them, and work well for him; when, if a strange barber should take one, his work with it would be likely to be rather poor for some time—in fact, until he had nursed the sensitive blade around to his ways and his peculiar touch."

"Which do you consider the best razor to buy—the most expensive or the cheaper grades?"

"I was just coming to that. No, I don't think that as a rule expensive razors are much better to use than those of medium price and quality. Now there is a razor," said he, taking one with a horn handle down from the shelf, "that I bought in an auction room for twenty-five cents. That was cheap enough, you must confess, yet cheap as it was, it is now one of the best razors on my shelf, it having turned out exactly as I would wish. This razor is good on almost any face, while some others which I have, while I can shave one man with them with ease, another man may sit down in my chair and that same razor will pull so that the customer will cry out with pain."

"Another interesting fact about them is that they improve with age, that is, the temper will improve, and I have had razors in my possession which were of no earthly use to me, but after laying them away for a year or two I would find them first-class in every particular."—Boston Globe.

Concerning the actual hours of adult labor in Belgium, some difficulty is said to be experienced in getting at the facts.

The evidence given before a Belgian royal commission showed that railway guards are sometimes on duty for fifteen and even nineteen and a half hours at a stretch, and the Brussels tramway drivers are at work from fifteen to seventeen hours daily, with a rest of only an hour and a half at noon. Brick-makers work during the summer months sixteen hours a day. In the sugar refineries the average hours are from twelve to thirteen for men and from nine to ten for women. The cabinet-makers, both at Ghent and Brussels, assert that they have often to work seventeen hours a day.

In Switzerland the law provides that a normal working day shall not exceed eleven hours, reduced on Saturdays and public holidays to ten. Power is reserved for prolonging the working day in certain circumstances. Except in cases of absolute necessity Sunday labor is prohibited, and in establishments where uninterrupted labor is required each working hand must have one free Sunday out of two. Women can not under any circumstances be employed in night or Sunday labor. Italy has made regulations for child labor. Sweden is in the same position. Spain and Portugal have done nothing. The general rule in the latter country, applying to old and young, is to work from sunrise to sunset, an hour and a half being allowed for meals. In the Netherlands a law was recently promulgated to prevent excessive and dangerous work by grown-up women and young persons. In Turkey the working day lasts from sunrise to sunset, with certain intervals for repose and refreshment. In Russia, where there are no laws affecting the hours of adult labor, the normal working day in industrial establishments averages twelve hours.

HIDDEN JUST IN TIME.

An Incident of Mr. Kennan's Travels in the Land of the Czar.

Mr. George Kennan, the Siberian explorer and exposé, is one of the most entertaining conversationalists whom a person can meet. He is a very unassuming man and very modest. Some of his most thrilling experiences will probably never be put in print, or, at least, not for a number of years, for strange as it may seem, Mr. Kennan hopes to again visit Russia at the end of two or three years. He had very many narrow escapes from death and the mental strain produced by them was naturally very great. One of these which has not been printed occurred once while he was in a Nihilist's house. He had papers with him which, if found, would result in his being instantly shot. He was informed that the officers were on his track, and would arrive at this house within five minutes. Russian officers are very thorough when making a search for anything of this nature, and what to do with these papers was a most pertinent question. But to think was to act, and taking up a hand-glass upon the table he pried out the back with his knife, hastily put the papers in the frame and restored the back to its place just as the officers arrived. The search was made, the glass raised from the table, but the papers were not found. This is but a sample of the many experiences Mr. Kennan had in Siberia. He says that the horrors of the prison system there in vogue can not be described in words so as to convey any accurate idea to the reader or hearer.—Philadelphia North American.

AFTER THE ELEPHANTS.

A Royal Hunt in India Enjoyed by a Man from New Jersey.

The following account of a royal elephant hunt at Aynthia, India, was written home by a New Jersey man who happened to witness the interesting event: "The stroke in which the elephants are yearly captured," he says, "is a quadrangular piece of ground, enclosed by a wall some six feet thick, having an entrance on one side through which the elephants are made to enter the inclosure. Inside the wall is a fence of strong teak stakes driven into the ground close together, allowing only sufficient room between them to permit the passage of a man. In the center is a small house erected on poles and strongly supported and surrounded by stakes, wherein men are generally stationed for the purpose of securing the animals, but on this occasion the elephants were let loose upon an open plain behind the arena and captured. The wild elephants being then in the bamboo jungle in the vicinity of Aynthia, having been decoyed from a great distance in the interior and kept in readiness within a few hours' journey for the appointed day, and as we were informed of their near approach to us we remained and witnessed the wild beasts being lured by the tame ones."

"The sight to us was a novelty. You see over an immense plain at some distance a few tame elephants with their riders ahead of at least two hundred wild ones, large and small. You see them nearing you closer and closer, until they approach the stockade, when the tame elephants form a front—and fancy fifteen tame beasts hemming in some two hundred wild ones in a small space—when they were pressed forward through the entrance one by one. Here we experienced some excitement. Some go through quietly, others refuse, show fight, charge the line of front, and on several occasions broke through, when off go the tame elephants and bring them back, and so by patience and perseverance the whole number is driven in. The gate is then closed and they remain within the inclosure to await the pleasure of the King.

"Early the next morning the King arrived, accompanied by a large concourse of nobles. At about eleven o'clock he arrived at a sort of grand stand and operations commenced. The beasts that had been penned up all night were let out through another gate opening into a plain, where such as the King admired were caught. Here again the scene was exciting. If an animal which is rimed escapes, chase is immediately made after it by the tame elephants, the driver of which throws a lasso to catch the fugitive's feet. Having effected this, the animal upon which he rides leans itself with all its power the opposite way, and thus brings the other violently on the ground. It is then strongly bound and conveyed to the elephant stables. One large male made its escape through the front ranks and was lost among the ruins and jungle of the old city. Naturally enough accidents are of common occurrence, men being killed by the infuriated animals, which are frequently confined for two days in the inclosure without food. I am nappy to say that no accidents of a serious nature occurred on this occasion. I have only to chronicle a few upsets of no importance. From the two hundred elephants that were decoyed the King selected some twenty of the best. The remainder were driven into the interior to await the ensuing year."—Newark Sunday Call.

A WEEK TOO LATE.

How One of the Boys Dropped Five Dollars on an Uncertainty.

A young man about twenty-three years of age, dressed like a farmer, had his feet on the car seat in front of him and was reading a novel, when, according to the Newark Sunday Call, one of the boys went over to him and observed: "I've just made a bet of five dollars on you."

"On me? What is it?"

"I've bet five dollars that you will suicide within a week. I've been watching you very closely for the last half hour, and all signs indicate melancholy and despondency. Have you selected any particular line of killing yourself—poison, the rope, drowning or hanging?"

"Did you actually bet five dollars?" anxiously asked the young man.

"I did."

"Pay if you lose?"

"That's too bad. I wish I could have seen you last week."

"Why last week?"

"Because I then had the ager every day right along—two cows were sick on my hands—my girl had gone dead back on me, and I expected a windmill man was going to beat me out of four hundred dollars. I did kinder think of suicide."

"But now?"

"All is changed. Cows got well—ager all gone—gal has set the day for next Wednesday, and the windmill man is straighter than a board. Durn my hide if I ain't going to try and live five thousand!"

JEFFERSON ON SNORING.

Incidents of an Old-Time Stage Journey Across the Alleghenies.

A short way from town there was a long hill up which the horses toiled, so this gave the inmates of the coach time to settle themselves down for a quiet nap. One snore after another announced the accomplishment of this feat, and in a few minutes at least six out of the nine passengers were oblivious of their miserable condition. I never before had so fine an opportunity to study the philosophy of snoring. A large, fat man opposite me had a short, angry snore; at one time he snored so loudly that he woke himself up, and he had the impudence to glare about at the company as though he hoped that they would not make that noise again. The old lady who was rushing me up in the corner snored deeply and contentedly. Some one off in a dark corner, whom I could not see, had a genial way of joining in, as though he snored merely to oblige the passengers; but the grand, original musician of the party sat opposite me. I never heard any thing approaching him, either for quality or for compass. It was a back-action snore that began in a bold agitation movement, suddenly brought up with a jerk and terminated in a low whistle. As the coach steadily moved up the hill the hand was in full play. The summit gained, there was a sharp crack of the whip, the horses started, and as every body was jerked violently backward, the snoring gave place to oaths and pshaw and jolting about. As soon, however, as we got up to this sensation, the chorus began again; and as I was quite overcome and tired, I joined in until the coach came to a full stop at the stable where the horses were to be changed. The sun now rose and came in at all sorts of places, waking and blinding every body. What a discontented and unhappy lot we were! and how we all hated one another!

Breakfast at last! Ah! hot coffee, ham and eggs and buckwheat cakes! The meal was not half over before we were a band of brothers. We could not do enough for one another, and all was harmony and peace. Of course under these conditions we became more familiar, and one vied with another in making the time pass agreeable.—Joseph Jefferson, in Century.

Cure for Drunkenness.

A half-ounce of ground quassia steeped in a pint of vinegar is recommended as a cure for drunkenness. A tea-spoonful in a little water should be taken every time the liquor taste is felt. It satisfies the cravings and produces a feeling of stimulation and strength.
